He actively volunteers at welfare homes and participates in cultural activities.

Sri Vallabha is also actively involved in social causes and is associated with the EQUIPPP foundation, which helps circulate precious literature to stakeholders across various regions. He participated in the Indian Book Launch event of "Social Value Investing " in 2019, co-authored by Prof. William. B. Emicke and Prof Howard Buffet, which proposed cross sector collaboration between philanthropists, government, and industrial corporations for positive social impact and a chance to interact with Prof Willaim B Emicke.

Sri Vallabha recently participated in the knowledge session on Social Stock Exchange conducted by EQUIPPP foundation. This knowledge session brought out dynamic deliberations and insights from various participants with the help of a FAQ workbook. It motivated Sri Vallabha to organize similar knowledge sessions titled “Student Connect” with the student communities across 700+ districts of India and bring out views and insights of the next generation leaders i.e. children and youth.

He convinced the EQUIPPP foundation to support this initiative and joined as a student leader to speherehead “Project Student Connect” and is going to organize knowledge sessions starting with Telugu States this summer.

Inspired by Prof William B Emicke’s message on the importance of cross sector collaboration , Sri Vallabha wishes to document these insights and deliberations from the knowledge sessions and circulate it with CSR agencies and Governments, thereby evolving cross sector partnerships.
